

OAHU DEMOCRATS ABANDON HOPE FOR COUNTY FUSION

ANTI-FUSION ELEMENT IS DOMINATING THE HOME RULE PARTY AND WILL CHECK FUSION FOR THE ISLAND OF OAHU—HOME RULERS SAID TO BE FAVORING BROWN'S CANDIDACY—RAISING THE "ANTI-HAOLE" CRY AGAIN.

All hope for fusion between the Democratic and Home Rule parties has been abandoned, so far as the island of Oahu is concerned. There was never any attempt made by the Democrats to secure fusion on a candidate for delegate. Indeed many Democrats at first supposed that the Home Rulers would not put up a candidate.

From the sentiments expressed at the recent Home Rule convention although

It was a territorial organization and not confined to Oahu county, the anti-fusion faction is in control of the Home Rule party and will undoubtedly be able to block all attempts to secure fusion in the county elections for Oahu. Leading Democrats have practically abandoned all hope of fusion for the county or the legislative elections and

ROBINSON, THE LANDS AND THE PORTUGUESE

THE CIRCUIT JUDGE STANDS BY HIS POSITION REGARDING THE LAND LAWS AND THE CHARACTER OF A CERTAIN CLASS OF PORTUGUESE WHO CAME HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO—THE AMERICAN SYSTEM.

Judge Robinson stands by his guns on the land proposition, and also with regard to the Portuguese immigrants, though he declares that a construction has been placed upon his letter which is far from what he intended. His comment on the letter of Antonio D. Castro, who in a published letter accuses the judge of libelling the Portuguese race and generally insulting Portuguese here, is that Castro's position is "absurd."

"The class of Portuguese to which I had reference as not minking good American citizens," said the judge, "is the class of which we had samples in the Johnson murder trial, and is a totally different class from those to whom Mr. Castro refers. As a matter of fact the Johnson trial was on at about the time when I wrote my letter to Senator Perkins. The witnesses we had in that case were Portuguese who had been in the islands twenty years and more, and not only could not speak, read or write the English or Hawaiian language, but could not read or write, or even fluently speak, their own language. As the interpreter told me, it was actually with

HEARING KAU FOREST RESERVE

THE GOVERNOR AND BOARD OF FORESTRY TAKE MATTER UP THIS AFTERNOON.

Governor Carter went to the headquarters of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry this afternoon to attend the hearing of reports and protests on the proposed Kau forest reserve. The reserve in question includes about 75,000 acres on the slopes of Mauna Loa, and it was recommended at a meeting of the Board held on June 20. A protest was reported against it, and the matter was set for hearing this afternoon.

The report of the Board recommending the setting apart of the reservation was based on an elaborate report by Forester Hosmer.

TWO MORE JOBS FOR BONINE

WILL TAKE A DRILL OF COMPANY F AND TACKLE SURF-RIDING.

Captain Sam Johnson and Company F are to undergo the Bonine treatment now. Bonine called on Secretary Atkinson this morning, with Secretary Wood of the Promotion Committee and Captain Sam, and the matter was discussed. It was agreed that Sam should get his company together and put them through their paces for practice and then let Bonine train his wonderful machine on them. That they will make a splendid picture is the opinion of all who have seen the company drill.

Surf-riding is another thing Bonine wants to get, and Atkinson, who is an expert at the business, is arranging to assist him. The swift flight of a surf boat on the crest of a good wave is regarded as one of the most important of local scenes and at the same time very hard to get, as it can only be seen at best from some distance out in the water. Bonine will probably plant his machine somewhere in the water and try to get a view of a passing boat.

OAHU RAILWAY SUES ARMSTRONG

WANTS AN INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN HIM FROM MAINTAINING PIPE LINE.

The Oahu Railway and Land Company has brought suit for an injunction against James Armstrong to stop him from maintaining a pipe line and conveying water across the company's property in Pearl City. The complaint sets forth that Armstrong has laid the pipe and refuses to remove it. Armstrong's line is for the purpose of conveying water to his property on one side of the company's strip to the property he owns on the other. The company asks for a perpetual injunction, with penalty of contempt, for maintaining the pipe. Ballou and Marx are attorneys for the company.

Fusion Tickets Named

MAUI ALREADY HAS A HOME RULE-DEMOCRATIC COUNTY AND LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

The Democrats and Home Rulers of Maui County have already fused for local offices, which they think they have a chance to win, and have named their tickets. They have also fused and made nominations for the legislature. The matter of a delegate to Congress is left open, with a probable formal appearance of contest, which will let Kuho in without any trouble. "Oily Bill" White of Lahaina for the Senate is one of the probable results of the fusion, though he has not been regularly nominated as yet.

For the House of Representatives, the districts of the County have named their choices, who are to run, according to present plans, as Home Rule Democrats. The ticket is as follows: Molokai, D. H. Kahalo, Hilo, Hana district, J. K. Hilo.

Two of them, Hilo and Kaula, are members of the first House, known as the Banderlog House.

For supervisors, the Molokai fusionists, in a meeting attended by 24 delegates, named J. N. Wahine and for Deputy Sheriff Pata Naki.

Lahaina district named George Knuhl for supervisor and D. Kuana for deputy sheriff.

Hana district's choices are J. Ahuli for supervisor and J. K. Hanana for deputy sheriff.

These are district nominations, to be finally ratified in a general convention, but they are regarded as final selections, for the districts are supposed to name their own choices.

There have been declarations enough for Bill White, it is said, to make him sure of the nomination for the Senate. The same plan is a probability on Hawaii fusion for the local and legislative offices, but not for the delegateship, with possibilities of some legislative contests.

The Maui Republicans generally plan to nominate the County officers for second terms and will go to the people claiming a successful administration.

BROWN'S SALARY HELD UP

SUIT AGAINST THE COUNTY SHERIFF WITH AUDITOR BICKNELL MADE A PARTY.

County Sheriff A. M. Brown's salary has been held up by a proceeding filed against him in the Circuit Court by Sarah Kalama, who makes the County Auditor, James Bicknell, a party to the suit, in order that Bicknell may hold up the sheriff's monthly salary warrant of $175.

The claim is for $1,181.03, alleged to be due for rent of property on Vineyard street, leased by Brown in July, 1901, at a rate of $480 per year. The plaintiff says that since June, 1904, Brown has lapsed in his payments, only having paid $13 since June 1, 1904. The accumulations now amount to $1,181.03, it is set forth, and judgment is asked for this sum.

Smith & Lewis are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Sailor's Home May End Its Days

SAILORS WHO WILL COME TO PORT NEXT SEASON WILL BE SMALLEST NUMBER ON RECORD

It is regarded as probable that the Sailors' Home in this port will be discontinued after the present season. The home has been supported largely through the aid of private subscriptions. It has housed many sailors and has under the management of Captain I. Bray proved an excellent institution.

But the coming of the freight steamers and the consequent decline of the volume of sailing fleet coming to this port has resulted in a corresponding decrease in the number of sailors who come to the port. By the new traffic arrangements for shipping sugar across the Tehuantepec railroad, with the two American-Hawaiian fleets, there will be few deep water vessels calling at Honolulu next year. It is likely that not over 40,000 tons of sugar will be shipped in sailing vessels next season around the Horn. The indications are now that the home will be discontinued, as the number of sailors who will come to port will hardly warrant its maintenance.

Certainly if it is maintained it will probably be on a much smaller scale than at the present time.
